Editorial

Dear Enlightened Readers

Welcome to Bengtol College family. This time, we are bringing out the Volume-2, Issue-I of Bengtol College Newsletter for our readers comprising our diverse stakeholders like students, faculty, alumni and the society at large. In this issue also, we make our sincere effort to highlight various activities undertaken by the college, its achievement and challenges. A college is very much an institution with social obligation. It should play the role of a catalyst for positive social change. Therefore, our College always struggles to facilitate a holistic development for our students who must play crucial role in shaping a robust and progressive society. The contents of this issue of newsletter surely reflect our humble step towards that direction.

We regret for the unnoticed errors and the suggestions for further improvement will be considered with due acknowledgement.
